Usage Guidelines:

- A. The following are policies governing weddings and other ceremonies conducted at the Chapel. Although use of the Seaside Interfaith Chapel by other faiths is encouraged, these policies are formed by our predominantly Judeo-Christian experiences over the last two decades and, accordingly, weddings and ceremonies of other faiths require express board approval.
- B. Lessee understands and agrees that an approved wedding planner must be obtained for the event and agrees that only approved vendors, per Schedule B of this agreement, will be allowed to manage the event.
- C. Lessee understands and agrees to abide by all policies outlined below as established by the Seaside Interfaith Chapel Board of Directors.
 - Fire code allows for no more than 200 people in the Chapel.
 - Guest seating in the balcony area upstairs is not allowed as musicians and photographers occupy that space.
 - If removal of the sandstone/shell cross is requested, ONLY the staff of the Chapel may move, store, and reposition after the event. The American Flag, 2 pewter candlesticks, the 4 wooden chairs, and the wooden podium may be moved; a representative of HOCO must handle all movement and all items must be returned to their proper location immediately after each event. The altar may not be moved.
 - During the holiday season there will be decorations in the Chapel that may not be removed.
 - In accordance with the Seaside Interfaith Chapel, LLC by-laws, no wedding may be performed without being conducted by a licensed ordained minister, priest, or rabbi of Judeo-Christian faith and without the approval of the Board of Directors. Same sex marriages are not permitted in the Chapel nor on its grounds. We respectfully request that brides consider the Seaside Interfaith Chapel minister for wedding ceremonies.

- The addition of staples, nails, hooks, etc. is not allowed on the interior or exterior of the Chapel. Only 3M Command Strips may be used (no other brand). Florists may use the existing hardware that is pre-placed and permanent in the Seaside Interfaith Chapel, however there is to be no draping of anything over the sconces on the wall.

- Floral arrangements left for our Sunday services are very much appreciated.

D. Lessee acknowledges that failure to strictly comply with all requirements above can result in fines up to $500 per occurrence.
